

US Equity Opportunities

Strategy Overview

Nicholas Investment Partners US Equity Opportunities is a focused all-cap strategy that seeks to deliver long-term capital appreciation through high-conviction investing. The strategy capitalizes on a disciplined and forward-looking investment process to invest in successful, growing companies—those that manage change advantageously and are poised to exceed expectations.

- Over 30 years of experience investing in dynamic growth companies whose revenues and earnings are catalyzed by positive change
- Specialists in small- to mid-cap companies
- Invest in both equities and convertibles
- Edge comes from combining global fundamental equity and credit research with objectivity and efficiency of quantitative tools

Objective

Seeks long-term capital appreciation

Portfolio Construction

Portfolios are actively managed to continually drive to the strongest investment ideas. Position sizes are based on the conviction in the investment thesis of each company relative to other portfolio holdings and risk exposures. Early warnings signs that suggest deterioration in company fundamentals or earnings strength lead to timely sell decisions. When constructing portfolios, the portfolio manager will typically adhere to the following general guidelines under normal market conditions:

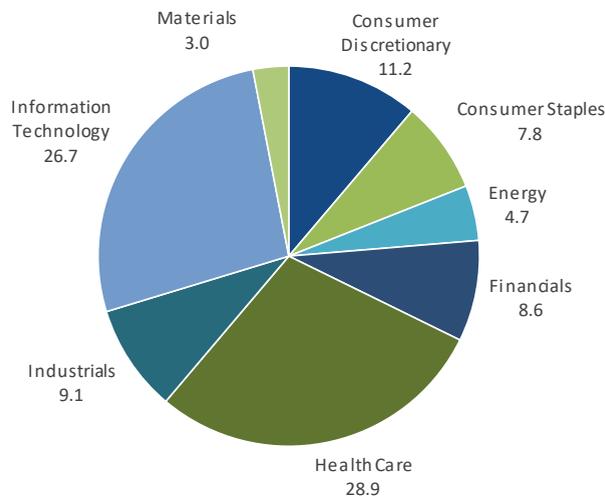

- Number of Positions: 40-60
- Geography: Publicly traded equity securities generally listed on US exchanges
- Capitalization: Greater than $100M
- Security Max: 10%
- Sector Max: 50%
- Cash: Transactional, typically <5% (max 20%)

Nicholas Investment Partners, L.P. ("Nicholas") is an independent investment adviser registered with the SEC. Registration with the SEC does not imply a certain level of skill or training. The firm maintains a complete list and description of performance composites, which is available upon request. Policies for valuing portfolios, calculating performance, and preparing presentations are available upon request. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance presented. This is intended for institutions, consultants and qualified investors only. No part of this material may be copied or duplicated, or distributed to any third party without written consent.

Nicholas does not guarantee the success of any investment product. There are risks associated with all investments and returns will vary over time due to many factors such as changing market conditions, liquidity, economic and other factors. The value of investments can go down as well as up, and a loss of principal may occur. Although Nicholas attempts to limit various risks, risk management does not imply low risk. All risk models are inherently limited and subject to changes in economic, political and market conditions, as well as changes in the strategies' holdings, among other things, which could affect the risk profile of any portfolio managed by Nicholas. Small- and mid-cap companies may be subject to a higher-degree of risk than larger more established companies' securities. The liquidity of the markets for these small and mid-cap companies may adversely affect the value of these investments. Concentrated or sector strategies are expected to maintain higher exposures to a limited number of securities or sectors which could increase the volatility, market, liquidity and other risks of the strategy.

Index returns are provided as a general indicator of the investment environment existing during the time periods shown and are provided for comparison purposes only. The returns for the index do not include any transaction costs, management fees or other costs. Investors may not make direct investments into any index. Investors should consider comparing the performance of any potential investment to other benchmarks and indices that are representative of their particular investment objectives, horizons and risk tolerances.

Specific securities identified do not represent all securities purchased, sold or recommended to advisory clients and represent the largest positions by portfolio weight. It should not be assumed that investments in these, or any other portfolio securities, were or will be profitable in the future. For a complete list of all securities held during the period or additional related to this presentation please email info@nicpartners.com.

Gross and net returns, presented within were calculated in US dollars on a time-weighted, total return basis, including reinvestment of all dividends, interest and income, realized and unrealized gains or losses and are net of brokerage commissions, execution costs, and any applicable foreign taxes. Accrual accounting was used for dividend income recognition. Securities transactions are accounted for on trade date. Cash and cash equivalents are included in the performance returns. The gross returns do not give effect to investment advisory fees which would reduce gross returns. The deduction of investment advisory fees will reduce gross returns and are subject to compounding. The composite results include all actual, fee paying fully discretionary accounts under management by Nicholas after one full calendar month that have substantially the same investment objectives, policies and restrictions. Unless otherwise noted the returns reflect the performance of the product composite. Performance and incentive based fees will have similar, yet often larger, impacts to performance and account values than standard management fees. Please see Nicholas' ADV Part 2A for a complete description of investment advisory fees.

Net returns reflect the deduction of the highest investment management fee for the product, which is 0.85%. Actual fees charged may vary by portfolio due to various conditions such as account size, client relationship, complexity, etc. Client's accounts may also be subject to additional fees unrelated to Nicholas such as custodial and administration fees, among others.

US Equity Opportunities

From inception through December 31, 2017, the benchmark presented as a general indicator of stock market performance was the Russell 1000. Beginning on January 1, 2018 the S&P 500 will be shown as a proxy for the general market performance. This strategy is not intended to track the performance or resemble the construction of any specific benchmark and may deviate significantly from the index shown. The strategy can also invest in up to 25% non-USD denominated securities which will not be held in the index.

From Inception through December 31, 2017 the strategy was called US Concentrated Equity. On January 1, 2018, the strategy name changed to US Equity Opportunities. The investment strategy has remained consistent since inception.

The S&P 500 Index is a widely regarded gauge of the US equities market, that includes 500 leading large cap companies in leading industries of the US economy. Although the S&P 500 focuses on the large cap segment of the market, with approximately 80% coverage of available market capitalization, it is also typically used as a proxy for the total market. Index returns include the effect of dividends and income which are reinvested daily.

eVestment is an investment manager database where investment managers populate investment returns and other which allows managers to run various reports including peer universe reports. eVestment performance figures shown are gross of fees and do not consider advisory fees which will reduce actual returns.
